

AMS450: Senior American Studies Seminar

An interdisciplinary seminar that requires students to integrate understanding from the various disciplines represented in the study of American culture. Serves as the capstone for the American Studies major but is open to students from all disciplines with an interest in the field.

Credit Hour(s): 3

Department: English