

ART321: Intermediate Graphic Design

This course serves as an indepth study of problem-solving and conceptual development through digital image manipulation, integration of type and graphics, and overall layout design. Primarily utilizing Adobe Photoshop and Illustrator, course assignments address a variety of complex design problems that encourage both technical and conceptual graphic design solutions.

Credit Hour(s): 3

Prerequisites:

ART121.

Department: Art

Semester Offered:

Fall