

BI0214: Organismal Diversity

An introduction to the biology of multicellular organisms. Lecture topics include reproduction and early development, control of gene expression in development, homeostatic systems of plants and animals, signaling and coordination in plants and animals, and the history of multicellular life. Lab will emphasize the diversity and evolution of multicellular organisms. Laboratory.

Credit Hour(s): 4

Prerequisites:

BIO111.

Program: Biological Sciences

Semester Offered:

Fall