

CHE319: Nuclear Chemistry and Electrochemistry Lab

This lab provides experience in the use of modern electrochemical instrumentation and in the study of the characteristics of the three types of natural radioactivity. Materials containing safe, low levels of radioactivity are utilized. One 3-hour lab per week.

Credit Hour(s): 1

Prerequisites:

CHE202.

Department: Chemistry

Semester Offered:

Fall (even)