

HIS111: History of Civilization to 1648

A study of human origins stressing the continuity of development through 1648. The course will be taught on a chronological or topical basis and will attempt to combine historical interpretation with a general knowledge of the significant developments of the past.

Credit Hour(s): 3

Department: History

Semester Offered:

Fall

Area of Inquiry: Humanities: HIS