

POS325: The American Legal System

A study of the organization and operation of the U.S. legal system; the functions and role of judges, lawyers, and juries; procedures in civil and criminal trials; jury verdicts, judgments, and sentencing; and the appellate process.

Credit Hour(s): 3

Department: Political Science

Semester Offered:

Spring (even)