

PSY433: Animal Cognition

This course will cover a range of issues involving animal consciousness, animal intelligence, and evolution of mind. We will look at what is known about intelligence in other animals, how intelligence is revealed in social and problem-solving behavior, and the ways in which animal cognitive abilities are adaptive.

Credit Hour(s): 3

Department: Psychology

Semester Offered:

Spring (odd)