

REL219: Youth and Family Ministries

A biblical, historical, and theological study of youth and family ministries. Particular attention will be given to ministering to young people and families in the twenty-first century. Students will engage in practical projects and assignments that will help develop best practices and methods for ministry.

Credit Hour(s): 3

Department: Religion

Semester Offered:

Spring (even)